On the occasion of the 12th International Architecture Biennale, the exhibition Mapping Contemporary Venice - from the city of today to the Venice of the future took place at VIU from August 26 to September 20, 2010.

"Mapping Contemporary Venice" was a process, launched and promoted by Venice International University and Moleskine, involving intellectuals, designers, architects, artists and students, aimed at creating a new visual representation of contemporary Venice and its possible projections into the future.

The exhibition presented two sections:

- Detour, a Moleskine project dedicated to culture and creativity worldwide, that featured internationally recognized artists, architects, film directors, graphic designers, illustrators and writers.

- myDetour, a Moleskine project dedicated to all lovers of painting, photography, illustration and writing. It was an opportunity to share creative experience, on- and off-line.

The Detour section of the exhibition presented projects by:

5+1AA, Alterstudio Partners, Giuseppe AmatoQanat, ASA/Flavio Albanese, ArandaLasch, Giancarlo Carnevale, FGMF Arquitetos, Yona Friedman, Andrés Jacque, JDS Architects, Francis Diébédo Kéré, Franco La Cecla, Rojkind Arquitectos.
