

visual arts and design, photography, film, video, digital media, and performance art. The program also includes a variety of other disciplines, such as architecture, landscape architecture, and urban planning.