The Course is developed and organized in collaboration with the Russian State Hydrometerological University, the City Government of St. Petersburg, the Leningrad Region Administration, the REC and Agroinnova.
35 participants are selected among high representatives of the Leningrad administration, the St. Petersburg government as well as from the business and academic sector of the targeted regions.

Official website

Two modules form the Course, respectively in St. Petersburg and in Venice:

Module

Location

Agenda

June 7 – 11, 2010
Sustainable Development for St. Petersburg and Leningrad Region – first module

St. Petersburg

download

July 4 – 10, 2010
Sustainable Development for St. Petersburg and Leningrad Region – second module

Venice

download

Policy and tools for SD, coastal zone management, water resources management and protection, urban planning, waste management are some of the crucial topics discussed and debated during the lecturing sessions, panel discussions and site visits scheduled during the modules.