The TEN Center, in collaboration with the Young Entrepreneaurs Group Unindustria Treviso and the patronage of the Italian Ministry for the Environment, Land and Sea, has carried out the project Innovation and Sustainability started in 2010.

The project aimed at developing a pattern for young entrepreneurs for building capacity and awareness in the field of green economy, through seminars, site visits and workshops on the topic. Conferences, workshops and site visits were organised, involving young entrepreneurs and experts.

The book "L'innovazione diventa sostenibile" was published in 2011 collecting the outcomes of the project.
