On October 19, 2016, the NOVELOG Rome Workshop Urban Freight Distribution: Current Challenges & Future Goals will take place in Rome (Italy).

The workshop will bring together stakeholders from Rome and other European cities, in order to explore new solutions to improve the performance of city logistics through an enhanced public/private cooperation.

More information, agenda and registration form are available here: http://novelog.eu/event/novelog-rome-workshop/

NOVELOG is a three year research project of which VIU_TeDIS is one of the partners. The project is supported by the EU HORIZON 2020 Programme and focuses on gaining insight into urban freight transport and providing guidance for implementing effective and sustainable policies and measures.

We encourage you to stay informed and sign up to receive the project newsletter at www.novelog.eu and follow Novelog on Twitter @NOVELOG_project