

The 21st International Society for Business Innovation and Technology Management Conference will focus on Responsible & Sustainable Consumption and Production and gathers a variety of experts from Asia and EU (May 3-5, 2017, VIU, Isola di San Servolo).

The Conference is jointly promoted by Venice International University (VIU) and the International Society for Business Innovation and Technology Management (ISBITM) in cooperation with De La Salle University (Philippines) and Lunghwa University of Science and Technology (Taiwan).

Hosted at Venice International University premises on the island of San Servolo in Venice (May 3-5, 2017), the Conference aims to provide a forum for the exchange of ideas on the latest international business innovation developments in the field of management among researchers and practitioners. The conference is also expected to foster networking, collaboration and joint effort among the conference participants to identify major trends in business decision making model for responsible consumption and production.

The International Society for Business Innovation and Technology Management (ISBITM) is a leading professional association for scholars dedicated to creating and disseminating knowledge about innovation & technology management and organizations. It includes European Business Innovation and Technology Management Society (EUBITMS), Asia Pacific Business Innovation and Technology Management Society (APBITMS), African Business Innovation and Technology Management Society (AFBITMS) and American Business Innovation and Technology Management Society (USBITMS).

A limited number of participants can be admitted.

If you are interested in participating, please contact ilda.mannino@univiu.org